The Trane Company Moves to Ft. Worth's Mercantile Center

The Trane Company has relocated to a newly finished 50,000 SF space in Ft. Worth's Mercantile Center, owned by Mercantile Partners.

The Trane Company, a world leader in air conditioning and environmental control systems, will use this location as a parts and shipping warehouse, with facilities for offices and on-site training. The warehouse provides an interior fenced storage area as well as a four position loading dock. Between the office and warehouse areas is a large parts center.

"The facility is beautiful, everything we hoped it would be," said Terry Stevens, Vice President of Business Strategy for Trane. "The customer training center is state-of-the-art, and that's important because we have a huge training program in Dallas/Fort Worth. The Parts Center is laid out to be very customer-friendly and the finish-out is beautiful. We certainly believe the new location will help us grow our business in the future."

"During the past 15 years, BMC has completed 17 shell buildings and numerous large
